

Ok guys, so, I reall wasn't supposed to make a video out of this, but since we now have a YouTube channel, I figured it would make sense to go ahead take 5 minutes to show you the main features and the perks you will get from pre-applying as an influencer today, before we roll our public version.

First and foremost, I'm matt, founder of Askbox.me,

Which is a free service that gives you, influencers and content creators a personal page as well as a paid inbox that you most loyal fans can use to tip you in exchange for you valuable input and advice on stuff you are known to be good at.

So it's really kind of about mixing together a donation page with a message box under a simple address, like askbox.me/matt , in my case.

I built this on my spare time just because I actually wanted to use it to ask questions to my favorite content creators while making sure I would get an answer.

And as of today, most creators use a Paypal.me/theirname for one time tips or sometimes a Patreon page, which is really cool for subscriptions related stuff.

But unfortunately these are not designed to get in touch personally with our beloved influencers and creators while supporting their work financially.

So, Ok, let's get to it.

- Here is the main page, where users can discover creators by categories, which includes beauty and fitness, people and relationships, business and money, you name it.

You will be featured alongside similar content creators, which, you know, is always useful to bring traffic to your chanel and hopefully make new some fans and friends.

- Login and signup, very basic, non-intrusive stuff.

This is actually the form for regular users, so we just ask for first names and usernames, and of course we made it easy for them to signup using their Facebook account.

Ok, so this is a typical example of what an influencer page will looks and actually it's mine, but we'll get to that in the second video.

- Ask and Tip

Your fans can use this box to ask you for advice and input on stuff, and pay per word, so the longer the question, the bigger the tip, very simple stuff.

- Get answers !

This is what your fans will see when receiving an answer from you.

- And this is what you will see when writing answers to them.

-Rate and review

This is pretty important : we want Askers and Creators to be able to rate publicly their shared experience, so to make this a safe and trusted place for everyone, from the beginning and hopefully for a very long time.

Ok, so if you still have any question, you can learn more about how this work, and of course apply as an influencer following the link in the description down below.

Important stuff, as of today June 25 2019, we have pre-registered around 70 influencers, we're aiming for two hundred before the end of this beautiful summer, at the end of which we will be rolling out the service for public consumption, so, early birds who pre-registered before the opening, will benefit from prime exposure within their categories, and of course a commission free service, (which by does not include our payment processor fees, which we have no leverage on). So hurry up, don't miss the boat !

Also, please keep in mind that this is a test version, some stuff may change you might still find be some bugs and glitches at this point.

Basically the whole thing does what it's supposed to do, and nothing more.

But we'll see if you guys enjoy this and how you use it, and if the need arises we'll start building a nicer version of it, probably over the next few months, maybe an app, with multimedia Q&A displayed in public feeds, comments, subscribers, notifications and whatnot, so hopefully this will be something new and exciting for everyone involved.

Feel to contact me directly, day and night, through my personal LinkedIn or Facebook accounts, if you have any question. and of course

Thanks for watching,

Have a great summer, and see you soon on Askbox.